TIPS AND HINTS FOR PACKING

Bundle packing in a carry on. I have found a wonderful method to carry multiple outfits in a carry on suitcase. Search - Bundle Packing for wrinkle free clothes/carry on - on youtube.com. I have found this method to work well for me - reviews are mixed but it sure is handy to know.

1. I use two to three bundles in my carry on so I can unpack as I go.
2. Make a "core", using something like a luggage organizer. You can also fold up some socks in a shirt. This goes in the center of the bundle.
3. Take your next shirt and lay it 180 degrees to the first one. Arrange it so the edge of both collars just touch the edge of where the core goes.
4. Now you are going to lay out the clothes in a specific order. Shirts are on the vertical and pants are on the horizontal. Jacket - Longer Skirts and dresses - Long-sleeved shirts - Short-sleeved shirts - Pants - sweaters and knits - shorts
5. Now drop our core back in the center and start wrapping, wrapping the pants around the core, then the shirt around the bundle sleeves first, then the body. Smooth out any gathered fabric as you go.
6. Great! Now you're ready to go. Make sure to not overpack. This technique works best when you only pack the essentials.
